

CLAIMS:

What is claimed is:

1. A disposable toothpaste dispensing toothbrush comprising:
 - (a) a toothbrush head of conventional size and shape with toothbrush bristles fixably attached with several dispensing orifices beginning at the bristle head interface of said toothbrush head and connecting to an internal toothpaste conducting head channel;
 - (b) a toothbrush handle fixably attached to said toothbrush head with an internal toothpaste conducting handle channel connecting to said toothpaste conducting head channel; and
 - (c) a toothpaste tube fixably attached to said toothbrush handle with an opening from said toothpaste conducting handle channel to the inside of said toothpaste tube which has been sized such that the toothpaste supply expires before said toothbrush bristles are worn enough to lose their cleaning effectiveness.
2. A disposable toothpaste dispensing toothbrush as defined in claim 1 whereby said toothbrush heads and handles are supplied in different colors to assist in brush identification.
3. A disposable toothpaste dispensing toothbrush as defined in claim 1 further comprising a plastic travel cover which is of an elongated tubular shape for covering said toothbrush head section, wherein said tubular travel cover has a cover opening and an opening rim, and wherein at least one boss is formed on and along an inner periphery of the opening rim so that the opening rim can be detachably fitted onto the toothbrush cover retaining ring fixably attached to the top external surface of said toothpaste tube.

4. A disposable toothpaste dispensing toothbrush as defined in claim 3 whereby said toothbrush travel covers are supplied in different colors to assist in brush identification.

5. A disposable toothpaste dispensing toothbrush as defined in claim 3 whereby said toothbrush travel covers are supplied with favorite cartoon characters to make the brushing experience fun for children.
